The Medical Library online is provided as a service to employees of LMHS and to physicians. We encourage its use to improve the quality of our care to our patients and to enhance the knowledge of our staff. There are certain federal rules that have to be followed including HIPAA and rules for use during non-work hours. Access is provided to you for your personal educational and developmental purposes to be used during non-work hours. In the event you are requested to conduct research on behalf of Lee Memorial Health System, you must conduct such research during your scheduled work hours or you must obtain authorization from your supervisor or manager to conduct LMHS research at a time other than during your scheduled work hours in order to ensure hours worked are accurately recorded and paid. Failure to comply with these requirements may result in corrective action. Should you have any questions, please contact Narges Ahmadi, the Medical Librarian at Lee Memorial Health System.
